REPUBLICAN SPEAKINGS

Series of Educational Speeches being Delivered all over the County and Large Crowds are Attracted.

The following are a few of the letters from citizens and voters of the county living where Republican speakings have been held showing how the people are interested and how they are turning out in large numbers where ever Republican speakings are held. One of these speakings was held at Callahan Schoolhouse last Friday night and although there was little done in the way of advertising it and despite the fact that the weather was very disagreeable, yet there was a large crowd out. The following letter received this week from a prominent citizen at that place gives the facts.

Oct. 21st, 1912.

Editor Mountain Advocate,
Barbourville, Ky.

Dear Friend:

We had a speaking up here last Friday night and we want the people to know about it. We had another one a while back and we want the people to know about that one too. The first speaking we had was a Bull Moose speaking and there was not over a dozen people out to hear it most of them were Republicans and just wanted to see what they had to say. But this was not the kind of crowd that was out to hear the Republican speeches. There was more than sixty people at the last speaking and they heard one of the best speeches ever turned loose in Knox County. The Bull Moosers told us when they were here that there were no Republicans left. This might be true in some places but here in this precinct we are all going to vote just like we always have. We are going to stick it under the Log Cabin and continue to have good times just like we are having now.

Yours truly,
A Voter.

P. S. You can publish this letter if you want to, for we want the people to know about us here.

Another letter, from Flat Lick tells about the speaking at that place last Saturday night.

Dear Editor:

As you was absent from the speaking here last Saturday I am writing to tell you about it. We had one of the biggest crowds at the schoolhouse that night that has ever turned out to a speaking. The house was full and the yard around the schoolhouse was full and it was one of the best Republican crowds we have ever had here. There were some people here that had been wearing Bull Moose pins and saying that they were just as good Republicans as anybody and actually thought they were. But after some of the speakers got through reading the law passed by the last legislature and showed them where they were at and how they were voting themselves out of the Republican party they saw things different. Don't worry about Flat Lick, when the election comes around we will give the old Log Cabin the same big majority we always have.

There were a lot of voters here that did not know about the speaking in time to go Saturday night but they have heard about the speaking that is going to be held at Elys Tuesday night and they will be there then. You are sure to have a big crowd.

Very truly yours,

Name not signed by request.

The Editor of the Advocate not present at either of the above mentioned speakings but he was at Elys and we do know that the school house was full there last Tuesday night and that it was one of the most attentive speakings we were ever present at. The chairman who introduced the speakers was one of the best citizens in the County and was a man who had always been for Roosevelt, even up to a few days ago. He, like a lot of others did not understand the situation and did not realize that Roosevelt was trying to destroy the Republican party but thought he was running more as an Independent Republican. He told the people present why he was for the Log Cabin, how he had supported it for many years and the reason why he was now for it. He was one of those who went through the Cleveland Hardtimes with a family of five to support and no employment. He told how he was out of work for more than a year and how he at last got a few days work loading some lumber to build soup-houses. That is why he is a Republican now and why he is against any man who tries to destroy the party that has brought better times and has given employment to him and his family for the past sixteen years.

At every place where there have been Republican speakings there has been a large crowd and those who have been saying that the Republican party in Knox County was a "dead one" have only to attend one of these gatherings to learn differently.

Free Seed Testing For Kentucky

It may not be generally known to farmers and others in Kentucky that the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station is well equipped to test samples that may be submitted with a view to learning their quality, either as to purity or germination. A new laboratory for this work has been planned and is now nearing completion. When our incubators and other appliances are established it will be one of the most complete in this country.

The Station has already won a reputation for work of this sort not only in this country but Europe, and those sending samples can be assured that they will be tested well and as promptly as our facilities will permit. Samples will be examined in the order in which they are received.

To get fair tests it is necessary that the sample be taken from a bulk lot after a thorough mixing of the seeds. Samples of red clover, alfalfa, timothy, orchard grass, English blue-grass and rye grass should contain two ounces each. Samples of Kentucky blue-grass, Canada blue-grass, red-top and timothy should weigh one ounce each. The samples should be put in a stout paper envelope, not in ordinary correspondence envelopes because they are easily broken in the postoffice and let the seeds escape. Put your complete address, plainly written, on each envelope sent us and forward to the Division of Entomology and Botany, Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky. In writing to us always state whether both purity and germination tests are wanted.

H. GARMAN,

Head of Division of Entomology and Botany, Kentucky Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky.

A Miscellaneous Letter.
"I read a piece in the paper the other day," says Noah Count of Chigebite, "where they referred to the 'remains' of a man who was blown up by dynamite. Wouldn't 'remnants' have been a little more exact?"

Smith and Seavy are "Buddies"

Both Smith and Seavy speak highly of one another, but both say that Powers is a very undesirable citizen. Both say that he is a guilty murderer and ought not to be sent to Congress. The saintly Seavy, who would vote the Democrat ticket and the high minded Smith who assisted in the robbery of the Republicans in the 11th district and the state officers in '99 and who now is indorsing putting only 3200 people in the little 26th Democratic Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Grant, Pendleton and Bracken as against the 163,000 people in the 17th Republican Senatorial District composed of the counties of Pulaski, Laurel, Bell, Jackson, Knox, Rockcastle and Whitley are saints in lip service only. Smith who would require the votes of 7 mountain Republicans, who are his neighbors and living in the same Congressional District with himself to equal one Democrat living in the Blue Grass, and Seavy, who would vote the Democrat ticket, but for Roosevelt, are neither composed of such angelic qualities as to make them despise us ordinary human beings with whom they are per force compelled to mix and mingle. Kentucky State Medical Association to meet in Louisville

The Fifty-Seventh Annual Session of the Kentucky State Medical Association, which will convene in Dr. Powell's First Christian Church, in Louisville, October 29, 30 and 31st. Special rates on the railroads will be given. Especial attention will be paid to Pellagra and Infantile Paralysis.

Dr. J. A. Witherspoon, of Nashville, President of the American Medical Association, will deliver the Annual Oration. The scientific exhibits will especially interesting as the Association has offered prizes for the best exhibits of educational value. A banquet will be served at the Seelbach Hotel on the night of the 30th. Especial arrangement has been made for the entertainment of the visiting members and the ladies who accompany them.

This will be the largest medical meeting that has ever been held in Kentucky, and owing to the great interest displayed by the profession of Louisville in arranging for the reception and entertainment of the visitors, the response by the doctors of the State will be hearty.

It is expected that more than half of the practicing physicians in Kentucky will be present.

Mrs. L. H. Jarvis Dies Suddenly

Mrs. L. H. Jarvis died suddenly last Sunday evening about 6:30 o'clock of apoplexy. She was apparently in good health at that time although she had a few months previous been in ill health and her sudden death was a shock to the community.

On last Sunday she visited her brother J. R. Jones and that afternoon drove about the city and up to the cemetery in a buggy and up to the time she was stricken was in fine spirits. Dr. Burnside was summoned and arrived while she was yet alive but she was beyond medical aid and she only lived a few minutes after the stroke.

She was aged fifty-seven years and eight days, was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and a good Christian woman. Her funeral was conducted by Rev. Overley at the N. E. Church at noon Tuesday and she was buried at the Barbourville cemetery.

She leaves a husband and seven children, three married and four unmarried, and a number of other relatives besides a host of friends who mourn her loss.

To the bereaved family and relatives we offer our deepest and most sincere sympathy.

The Following Resolutions Were Unanimously Passed by the Republican County Committee In Knox County at Its Meeting in Barbourville Kentucky, October 17th, 1912.

Whereas we the Republican Committee of Knox County realizing that the Republican Party has made this a free country, has made it the most prosperous in its history, and has made it the most desirable country in the world for the laboring man, the farmer, the business man and professional man to make his home, and it has at all times stood for the home, for the honest toiler, and for all those things that make for freedom, prosperity, the moral uplift of its people, and for the protection and dignity of American labor, and

Whereas we believe the continued prosperity of this country depends upon the success of the Republican Party, and

Whereas some so-called Republicans who have held office under this party for years, and who have now left the party and formed the so-called Progressive Party are now going over the County in company with Democratic henchmen, and are undertaking to tell the Republicans how to vote and urging them to vote against the Republican ticket, Caleb Powers and Judge Kirk, and urging them to turn and destroy this great party and to make it possible to elect Wilson with his "Free trade Fallacies."

Now therefore be it resolved that we reaffirm our allegiance and faith in the honor and integrity of this great party: in its history and principles, in its glorious achievements of the past, its work of the present and success of the future, and reaffirm our belief that the prosperity of the country depends upon the success of this party, and

We therefore call upon the voters of Knox County to stand by the Log Cabin, and put forth their best efforts to bring about the success of this party and insure the continued prosperity of this country. Go to the poles yourself and take your neighbor.

PUT MUCH RELIANCE ON ANT

Use of the Little Insect in Medicine and Surgery Has Been Well-Nigh Universal.

Among the last of the remedies provocative of nausea of the imagination to disappear from the lists of official remedies have been preparations made from ants. Such preparations, however, have not obtained much recognition in this country even among the wise old women in domestic practice —though in parts of Europe they are yet in use. Ant baths, made by boiling ants in water, are yet in use by Bavarian peasant for rheumatism and gout, and also in Hessen and in Hungary. In Bohemia, it is said, for paralysis of the lower limbs patients are placed in an ant hill and allowed to remain until the whole body is covered by the insects, which are then shaken off when the cure is effected. In Brandenburg an aching tooth is rubbed with blood by means of a crust of bread and the crust is then placed in an ant hill. Impoverishment of blood is cured by means of an egg buried in the hill of the large red ants. The eggs must have been laid by a pure white or pure black hen, and must have been found when still warm. In Oberwalz the crushed eggs and larvae of ants are stirred up with cream and used as a remedy for colic. A salve made from wood ants, dog fat and coal dust is said to be used by Hungarian gypsies against gonorrhea. There is also in use in Montevideo the "ant suture," in domestic surgery. Those who had been bitten by ants noticed that the heads remained clinging to the skin when the body was torn away, being held in place by the powerful mandibles. The idea was thus suggested that the ant's jaws could be used to close the edges of wounds. The edges of the cut are pressed together, an ant is held so that its jaws will grasp both sides and its head is cut off. Several are applied along the wound and serve instead of the usual catgut stitches.

STAND ASIDE FOR ELEPHANT

Animals of the Jungle Have Well-Recognized Etiquette Observed at Drinking Places.

A moving picture firm has been taking some remarkable pictures at a water-hole in Abyssinia of animals which come there from miles around to quench their thirst.

It is the etiquette of the jungle for the elephant to drink first. No matter how many animals are around the water hole, they all stand aside for the greatest beast of all. Many of the animals come 40 or 50 miles for a drink, and there is a truce between even the most deadly enemies. After the elephant comes the rhinoceros.
Although most of the other animals observe the water-hole truce faithfully, two rhinos will fight over their precedence. The cinematograph operator obtained wonderful pictures of two of these huge animals going at it hammer and tongs. The fight only ended by one of the animals being killed.

When the rhinoceros had finished the giraffes drink their fill, followed by zebras. Sometimes 40 or 50 will arrive at the water hole at a time. According to the etiquette of the jungle, however, they only come in fourth for the drinking stakes. The first four animals are fixed in order, but the rest get a drink just how and when they can.—Pearson's Weekly.

JUDGE ANDREW J. KIRK.

All Parties Are For Judge Kirk

SO SAY WE ALL OF US.

(Lexington Leader)

THE Louisville Evening Post offers a suggestion which the Leader gladly endorses. It is that all parties unite in supporting Circuit Judge A. J. Kirk for the vacancy on the Court of Appeals bench caused by the resignation of Judge E. C. O'Rear which was filled temporarily by the appointment of Mr. Robert H. Winn by Governor Wilson.
Judge Kirk is an ideal selection and is sure of nomination and election no matter what happens in Kentucky or the Nation, but his endorsement by all parties would have a good effect. The Post says on this subject:

"The retirement of all other candidates makes certain the nomination by the Republican party of Judge Andrew J. Kirk, of Johnson county, for the vacancy upon the Kentucky Court of Appeals to be caused by the retirement of Judge R. H. Winn in November. Mr. Kirk is now a Circuit Judge, and one of the best in Kentucky.
The district is so overwhelming Republican that even in this year of certain Republican disaster the Republican nominee should win easily.
Moreover, Judge Kirk is of the material out of which Appellate Judges should be made. The Democratic party will do a graceful act in not contesting the election, and Wilson, Taft and Roosevelt men can all unite in the promotion of this Judge."

"So say we all of us." We believe the Leader and Post express the sentiment of practically the entire district and that the suggestions offered will be acted upon by the voters of the district. Advt.]

The Love Letters of a Confederate General

WE begin in the November issue a series of real love-letters written over fifty years ago by one of our national heroes to his sweetheart during the period of '61 to '65. This great general will go down to posterity as having accomplished one of the most brilliant feats of arms in the history of the world. He was as great a lover as he was a general, therefore these letters combine authentic history and exquisite romance. They sound a human note that no other work of literature has done in a decade; it is war, it is romance, it is history, it is literature. You simply can't afford to miss this wonderful series—an inside story of the Civil War now published for the first time and containing all the freshness of a contemporary happening. These letters will grip you hard, and hold your interest from first to last. Fill out the coupon and send it now before you forget it.

NEW GOODS THIS WEEK

People all like to be the first to pick new clothing and other goods when they arrive. We know this and that is why we announce from week to week our arrival of new goods.

In our new stock arriving since last week's announcement was a large selection of neckties for both ladies and gentlemen. This gives us a full and complete line and we can offer as nice an assortment as can be found in the city.

Other new goods opened up this week included an assortment of rugs, suit cases and traveling bags, hats of all descriptions, and a big bunch of raincoats.

Just another word about those coats and suits

They are going fast and if you want to get one before they are all picked over we would advise you to come right away.

Also, don't forget that when you want a tailor-made suit or order that we can give you a better price than any merchant in town. If you do not believe it compare our prices and see

COLE, HUGHES & CO., Barbourville, Ky.

R. B. McDonald who returned from the Philippines a few days ago where he had spent three years in the service of Uncle Sam, enlisted in the service and left here Wednesday afternoon for Des Moines, Iowa. Mrs. McDonald who is at present teaching a school in this county will join him in a few weeks, after her school is finished. "Bob" is enlisted as a musician.

A Memoir

The subject of this sketch, Elizabeth Jones, wife of L. H. Jarvis, and daughter of Dutton and Mary Jones was born Oct. 12, 1855 in this county, and died Oct. 20, 1912, at her home in Barbourville, aged 57 years and 8 days.

She was united in marriage Sept. 2, 1873. To this union were born nine children—Clara, Sudie, Carrie, James, William, Nettie, Floyd, Pearl and Mae.

She united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1875, and for 37 years lived a consistent Christian life. Sister Jarvis was a plain modest woman. She loved her family, relatives, friends and neighbors. She was a devout Christian, and loved her church. Her home was always the minister's home. When living in the country where the minister a circuit rider, and necessarily away from home she took great pride in caring for him, and making him feel at home. Like the good Shunamite woman she reserved a room for the prophet. She died in the faith, and has entered triumphantly into her heavenly home. Every one that knew her had a good word for her. She was of a sweet, genial disposition. A devoted wife, and a kind and affectionate mother. She has finished her course and has gone to her reward. She is survived by a husband and eight children, four grandchildren, Lewis and Leonard Cottengim, Elizabeth Jarvis and Jerree Perkins, one sister, Mrs. L. B. Croley, four brothers, J. R. Jones, George F. Jones, Dr. T. W. Jones and S. H. Jones.

The funeral services were conducted by her pastor E. R. Overly at the church. After which a large encourse of relatives, friends and neighbors followed her to her last resting place. May the Lord richly bless these bereaved. The family has the sympathy of the entire community.

No time for a last farewell,
No time for the shock of fear,
Scarcely a moment's halt on the shore,
With the guide and the boatman near—
Dear, how surprised you were to go,
With little to suffer, little to know.

Only a moment of dark,
A dream of the fleeting night,
And then the beautiful break of day
And the quiet peace of light;
And you found yourself where you longed to stand,
In the repose of the fatherland.

W. F. Amis et al Pltff.

vs.

T. H. Amis & Co. Def'ts.

By order of the Knox Circuit Court rendered at its April term, 1912, in the case of W. F. Amis & Co. plaintiffs against T. H. Amis & Co. defendants.

I will as Commissioner, on the 28th day of October 1912, same being first day of Knox County Court, sell at the court house door in Barbourville, Ky., to the highest and best bidder, the following described property, on a credit of 6 months.

FIRST TRACT, beginning at a white oak the lower corner of a 98 acre survey made in the name of Dillard, and known as the lower Dillard corner; thence with the meander of the river and up the same to a sycamore a conditional line originally made by Ambrose Arthur, between his two sons John and Thomas Arthur; thence southwardly with said conditional line to the conditional line between Wilkerson Amis, and John G. Amis, about 100 yards e of a sulphur spring; thence with said conditional line to the beginning containing 100 acres more or less but there is excepted from this boundary the Wilkerson Amis, grave yard.

SECOND TRACT, bounded on the e by the Cumberland River, on the s by lands of S. B. Dishman, and J. J. Pureful, on the w by the lands owned by J. J. Pureful and the Pureful heirs and on the n by R. S. Amis, and it is further bounded on the w by lands of Jack Amis, and Mary J. Amis.

Said property will be sold on a credit of six months the purchaser to execute bonds with approved security, bearing interest at six per cent, from date until paid, having the force and effect of a judgement and retaining a lien on said property until the purchase money is paid.

Witness my hand, this 9th day of October 1912.

J. R. Jones, Commissioner.

Sale about 1 P. M. Purchasers must execute bonds as soon as sale is over, or the property will be immediately put up and resold.

Deputy Grand High Priest

At the 95th Convocation of Kentucky Grand Chapter in Louisville last week. Dr. W. C. Black was elected Deputy Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter Royal Arch Masons of Kentucky. This is his sixth promotion in line for the highest office in State Capitular Masonry, and next year Dr. Black will have the honor of being the first mason from Southeastern Ky. elected and elevated to this high masonic position.

A Pleasant Evening at Elys

A most enjoyable time was had by a number of Barbourville's young folks, last Wednesday evening at Elys. The party, chaperoned by Mrs. O. C. McClung, went up on the 3:25 train and returned that night at 11:25 and were the guests of Miss Mary Matthews and Miss Cora Gaddie. Miss Matthews was the hostess at supper and had prepared a banquet, which needless to say was fully enjoyed by those present, after which the party came back to the home of Miss Cora Gaddie where the time was spent while waiting for the train, in dancing.

Profuse in their expressions of the pleasure they had enjoyed during the evening the crowd broke up at 10:45 and boarded the train for home after one of the most pleasant evenings spent in many weeks.

REV. CHAS. SAGER SAYS

Ms. C. A. ABBOTT, August 21, 1905.
Dear Sir: I have known for over 40 years of the effects of Wilson's Remedy (Wilson's Preparation of Hypophosphites and Biotin) in cases of pulmonary trouble. At this point I will say to you what you have not before known of; that 40 years since, while I was a resident of N. Y. City, I was severely ill with lung trouble. Physicians said I was a consumptive and my family physician told my wife that he thought I could not recover. My attention was directed to the Wilson Remedy, which I used with splendid effect. I have been on my feet and at work ever since my cure. Yours truly,
REV. CHAS. SAGER,
Pastor M. E. Church, Hunter, (Greene Co.) N. Y.
On Dec. 8, 1905, Mr. Sager wrote Mr. Abbott: "My health is very good."
If you will write Mr. Abbott he will gladly furnish you any further information you desire.

IT IS the weak spots that motor builders are looking for in order that they may correct them, and a tester who takes his car back to the factory and tells his superintendent that he has found a weakness is usually putting himself in line for promotion, therefore, there is the keenest competition between the drivers of test cars to see who can find the severest punishment for his car, hoping in this way, to discover a weak point. A Railroad crosses one of the many K-R-I-T testing roads and there is a large bump just before the railroad is reached. One of the testers conceived the idea that if he struck this bump with sufficient speed, his car would make the leap and clear the railroad tracks before striking the ground again. He tried this jump and the car made it perfectly and came down clear of the far rail. When he returned to the factory with this story he could find no one to believe it, as a result the superintendent and several of the testers went out to see him repeat the performance, which he did, not once but several times, and when the distance of the leap was measured it was found that the car had cleared 35 feet from the bump to the place where it struck ground again. When the car was returned to the factory it was found that the test had not injured it in any way whatever.

Help and Be Happy.

Happiness is not a goal. It is not even an occupation. It is a quality of life. Happiness depends on helpfulness. That's the reason joy is social. Helpfulness breeds happiness because it adds to the area of affection. People are not happy when they seek after happiness. They become steeped in happiness when they undertake to reproduce the joy of others.—Walter Williams.

World's Biggest Book Store.

A placard has been put up within the last day or two in Charing Cross road, where there are many old book-stores, saying that one or more is about to be opened with a stock of 1,000,000 volumes. This leads a London newspaper to state that the biggest book store in the world is the Melbourne Book Arcade, which has never less than a couple of million volumes in view.—New York Sun.

HOW THREE WOMEN ENJOYED THE MUSIC

Three plump women, ranging in weight from 160 to 200 pounds, file in and, after much creaking of silk gowns and groaning of chairs, are seated as the concert is about to begin.)

First Plump Woman (breathlessly)—"This is going to be a perfectly grand concert. I'm so glad we decided to come this afternoon, though I was awfully afraid Mrs. Deming wouldn't send my gown home. It did come, though, just in time for me to dress. How do you like it?"

Second Plump Woman—"It's perfectly lovely. But then you always look exactly right. So well groomed, don't you know, and all that. Doesn't she, Mrs. Tilden?"

Mrs. Tilden—"It's the dearest thing I ever saw. You certainly have the best taste in dress, Mrs. Snowdon. Every time I see Mrs. Snowdon, Mrs. Thompsons, I say to myself: 'If I only had such taste as she has!'"

Mrs. Snowdon—"How nice you two are! Of course, I know you're just saying it to make me happy, but then it's just as dear of you as if you meant it. Now, I think you two are the trimmest two women I know."

(Orchestra plays first number. At its close the three women give three sighs of appreciation or relief.)

Mrs. Snowdon—"Pretty, wasn't it? I do just love Wagner. And while I think of it, Mrs. Tilden, I want to ask you where you got that perfect dream of a schu you had on yesterday at the tea. I'm crazy about it!"

Mrs. Tilden—"Oh, do you really like it? How sweet of you to say so! I got the lace in Paris and I had my little seamstress make it when I got home. I think it's rather fetching."

Mrs. Thompsons—"It's the dearest thing! Oh, they're going to play again. I wish they'd wait a little longer between the numbers."

(The first violinist plays a solo.)

Mrs. Thompsons—"Isn't that violinist the dearest thing you ever saw? I simply adore him."

Mrs. Snowdon—"Yes, he's perfectly sweet, but he has the funniest looking wife. Did you ever see her?"

Mrs. Tilden—"I should think I did. I have very good reasons to remember her. I saw her at the tea Mrs. Dupont gave for her, and one of the maids spilled punch all over my best gown. It was never fit to wear afterward."

(Chorus of lamentations from the other two.)

Mrs. Tilden—"And such a dowdy thing as she is, too. Really, her gown was nothing but the plainest kind of silk. It looked as if she had bought it ready made. Really, the most ordinary looking thing."

Mrs. Snowdon—"Funny, isn't it, how queer these artistic people are about their clothes? The only one I ever knew who wasn't was the wife of that artist who visited Mrs. Tolman last winter. Do you remember what perfect dreams her gowns were?"

Mrs. Thompsons (with intense interest)—"Weren't they? I never saw anything more beautiful than the one she had at the reception Mrs. Tolman gave for her."

(The orchestra rudely interrupts them.)

Mrs. Tilden—"Isn't that young flutist absolutely the most attractive creature you ever saw? Now, do tell me about the gown you were speaking of, Mrs. Thompsons. You know, I was ill last winter and didn't go to the reception."

Mrs. Thompsons—"Well, it was gorgeous, my dear. Simply too wonderful for words. It was the most delicate shade of bluish lavender—a perfectly indescribable color. Marquise over mesaline, draped in the most wonderful way, and caught up with little bunches of chiffon, with a violet fastened in the center of each. What a catastrophe that you missed it!"

Mrs. Tilden—"I almost cried when I heard about it. I was the most disappointed person you ever saw. And usually Mrs. Tolman's affairs are so dowdy. By the way, there's Mrs. Parks down there. Speaking of dowdy people made me think of her. She has less idea of dressing than an other woman I ever knew. Actually she went to Mrs. Tuttle's garden party last Thursday in a perfectly plain linen frock. Not even a suit, my dear—just a little linen dress, with some sprays of embroidery on the front panel. Can you imagine any one doing such an unheard of thing? I'm sure Mrs. Tuttle felt it very keenly."

Mrs. Snowdon—"Poor Mrs. Tuttle! By the way, I suppose you're both going to the Trenton's Friday evening?"

The Other Two—"Yes, indeed!"

Mrs. Tilden—"You're missing it for worlds. What are you going to wear?"

Mrs. Snowdon—"Oh, I'm having Mrs. Deming freshen up my white voile with some new laces—just cheap little lace, only $3.50 a yard, but I've worn the gown three times already and I didn't feel like putting much money into fixing it up."

Mrs. Thompsons—"I'm having a little gray chiffon made, and I really think it's going to be a very dainty little frock. Simple, of course, and inexpensive. I've made up my mind that I simply won't spend more than $50 on it. But then I adore simplicity. I simply will not fuss over my clothes."

Mrs. Tilden—"Nor I!"

Mrs. Snowdon—"I feel just the way you do. That's why I adore living in Forest View. I simply couldn't live in a place where people judged you by the clothes you wear. In Forest View, you know, you really don't have to give your clothes a single thought."

HOME VACUUM ICE MACHINE

German Invention of Particular Interest Because of Elimination of Dangerous Acids.

A German vacuum ice machine, made in sizes adapted for use in the home, is of interest because it does not involve the use of sulphuric or other dangerous acids. It may be operated by hand or by a small electric motor, the smallest type of machine producing from 4 to 6 pounds of ice at each operation.

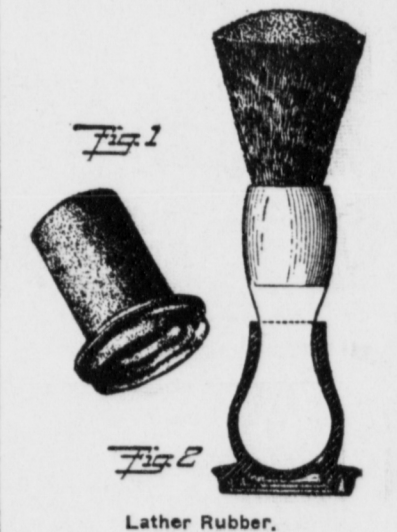

The apparatus consists essentially of two communicating drums attached to a common shaft, the smaller drum being provided with an outer casing having insulating walls. The ice is formed as a circular shell between the smaller drum and the outer casing with which this drum is provided. The larger drum, which is hermetically sealed, contains an absorbent liquid, chloride of zinc, containing a small proportion of water. This liquid half fills the drum, the remaining space being a vacuum, and serves during the life of the machine.

In the operation of making the ice, gas jets under the large drum are lighted and the drum slowly rotated, the heat driving off a part of the water in the absorbent liquid, the water passing, in the form of vapor, into the smaller drum, where it is condensed by means of cold water, which is made to flow over this drum. When the distillation of the liquid has proceeded sufficiently, the flame is extinguished, the smaller drum is then covered with its annular casing, and water is poured in until the space between the drum and cover is filled. A water jacket is then clamped over the larger drum, and water is passed through it to cool the absorbent liquid. The apparatus is then again slowly rotated, and as the absorbent liquid cools, it causes evaporation and absorption of the distilled water in the smaller drum. Thus the temperature of the smaller drum is greatly lowered and the water between this drum and its casing is frozen.

LATHER RUBBER MADE HANDY

Obviates Necessity of Rubbing Soap Into Skin With Fingers While One is Shaving.

To obviate the necessity of rubbing lather into the skin with the fingers, when shaving, a small attachment for

The shaving brush has been provided. It consists of a rubber cap which is fitted over the handle of the brush. The end face of the cap is formed with a series of concentric annular flanges which catch the lather and assist in rubbing it into the skin.

Sheriff's Sale

Federal Chemical Co. and Globe Fertilizer Co.

vs. John Harris, S. W. Harris, W. C. Adkins, W. F. Herren and Mary E. Craig.

By virtue of an execution No. 1921 issued from the Laurel Quarterly court on the 9th day of Sept. 1912, I, S. H. Jones, sheriff of Knox county will sell at the front door of the court house in Barbourville, Ky. on Monday, October 28th, that being the first day of the Knox county court, to the highest and best bidder the following described boundary of land:

A certain tract of land lying and being in Knox county in state of Kentucky on the waters of Hazel Fork of Lynn camp creek and bounded as follows:

Beginning at a post oak at the State road at C. C. McHargue's corner, thence with said line to Sam Harris' corner on a stone, thence with his line to two black oaks, thence with G. B. Sugener's line to the county road to a stone, thence with W. F. Herren's line to Mill Hale's line, thence with Hale's line to S. W. Ohler's line, thence with Ohler's line to S. W. Harris' line to a stone, thence with Harris' line to the beginning, and containing in all about 75 acres more or less, it being a tract of land W. C. Adkins inherited from his mother Samantha Adkins, described in deed book I, page 350 in the office of the clerk of the Knox county court, and the same land deeded to first party by W. C. Adkins and wife by court dated December 18, 1909 and recorded in deed book 20, page 324 in same office.

Levied on as the property of W. F. Herren.

Said sale will be for cash or on a credit of six months with approved security, the purchaser to execute bond, bearing interest, at the rate of 6 per cent from date of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment and retaining a lien upon the property until all the purchase money is paid.

The amount to be raised is $57.78 and probable cost of $30.00

Given under my hand this 9th day of October, 1912.

NOTICE

Of Sale In Bankruptcy

United States District Court Eastern District of Kentucky.

IN RE:

Bell Knox Coal Company, Bankrupt, In Bankruptcy No. 879.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned James H. Jeffries, Trustee in Bankruptcy in the above styled cause, under and pursuant to an order and judgment of sale heretofore rendered and entered of record therein, will on FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31,

A. D. 1912, between the hours of one o'clock P. M. and four o'clock P. M. on the premises, at the front door of the office of the bankrupt Bell Knox Coal Company, on Ely Hollow, Knox County, Kentucky, offer for public sale to the highest and best bidder, all of the hereinafter mentioned and described property, same lately belonging to the said bankrupt Bell Knox Coal Company, viz:

All of the right, title, interest and claim of the bankrupt, Bell Knox Coal Company, in and to 629.07 acres of leasehold property as remoted vendee thereof under and by virtue of a certain coal mining lease dated April 8, 1904, and executed by the Greasy Creek Mineral Company to the Ingles Coal Company, said lease being of record in Lease Book No. 7, at pages 279 to 287 inclusive, records Knox County Court Clerk's office.

The said lease in consideration of ten cents per ton of 2000 pounds royalty to be paid by the said Ingles Coal Company, its successors and assigns, gives and grants to the said Ingles Coal Company, its successors and assigns, including the Bell Knox Coal Company, the sole right and privilege for a period of twenty-five years from April 8, 1905, and for as much longer period as may be necessary to mine, ship and sell all coal found in, under or upon the said land, except the coal there-in that is known as the "Blue Gem" No. 1, and No. 2, and also all coal lying below "Blue Gem" No. 1; together with all the buildings, houses, tipples, inclines, mine tracks, mining cars, engines, boilers, pumps machinery, mules, stock of goods, entries and improvements, and all other mining equipment and property of every kind situated upon and appurtenant to the said land at the time of the filing of the petition in bankruptcy herein.

ALSO all of the right, title, interest and claim of the bankrupt Bell Knox Coal Company in and to 170 acres of leasehold property, as remoted vendee under and by virtue of a certain coal mining lease dated September 5, 1910, and executed by the Continental Coal Corporation to W. T. Murray, said lease being of record in Lease Book No. 5, page 111, records Bell County Court Clerk's office.

The said lease in consideration of ten cents per ton of 2000 pounds royalty, to be paid by said W. T. Murray, his successors and assigns, gives and grants to the said W. T. Murray his successors and assigns, including the bankrupt Bell Knox Coal Company, the right and privilege for a period of twenty five years from the 5th day of September, 1910, to mine, ship and sell all of the coal found in, under or upon the said 170 acres of land, except the seam of coal known as the "Black Raven" of "Straight Creek" seam, and all seams lying below it; together with all of the buildings, houses, tipples, inclines, mine tracks, mine cars, engines, boilers, pumps, machinery, entries, improvements and rights of way of every kind situated upon or appurtenant to the said tract of land at the time of the filing of the petition in bankruptcy herein.

The foregoing mentioned and described property will be sold as a whole, to the highest and best bidder, one half of the purchase price to be paid in cash to the undersigned Trustee, on the day of sale, and the remaining one half thereof to be secured by a sale bond payable to the undersigned Trustee, due in six months from the day of sale, bearing six per cent interest from day of sale until paid, with good surety thereon, and having the force and effect of a replevin bond, and retaining a lien upon all of the property to secure the payment thereof.

Reference is here made to the judgement and order of sale herein and to the records of the said two leasehold properties for a full and complete boundary description of said lands as fully as though set out herein.

Dated this September 30th, 1912.

James H. Jeffries, Trustee in Bankruptcy.

CORTRIGHT METAL SHINGLES

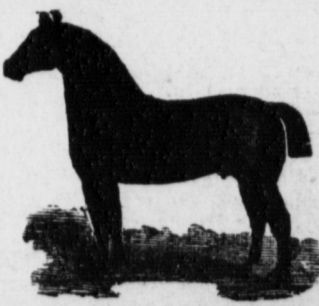

Laid right over old wood shingles. No dirt—no bother, and when once laid they make a thoroughly storm-proof and fire-proof roof, neither of which can be claimed for the wood shingle.

As to price—they cost no more than a good wood shingle, and in some places they cost much less.

Roofs put on 26 years ago are as good as new today, and have never needed repairs.

'Every Month' writes Lola P. Roberts, of Vienna, Mo., "I used to be sick most of the time and suffered with backache and headache. My Mother, who had been greatly helped by the use of Cardui, got me two bottles, and I have been well ever since."

E 49 Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Cardui is a gentle tonic for young and old women. It relieves and prevents pain. It builds strength. It feeds the nerves. It helps the whole system.

Made from harmless roots and herbs, it has no bad after-effects, does not interfere with the use of any other medicine and can do you nothing but good.

Try Cardui. It will help you. Your dealer sells it.
